

LIGHTHOUSE.

Editor's Message

As I finish my job as Lighthouse editor, it is with mixed emotions. There is a sense of relief that a long hard task is done. There is also a sense of sadness that I will no longer have the pleasure of working with a fine staff as we try to produce something worthwhile.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank all of the people who have worked so hard in putting this yearbook together. A very special thanks should go to Miss Dolan, the yearbook sponsor, for all her time and hard work.

In addition, I would like to thank all the annual staff who have worked so diligently; Mr. Reyman, our school photographer; Mr. Sprague, the Taylor representative; the businessmen who have used our yearbook to advertise; and the kind people who sponsored us.

I sincerely hope that each of you will enjoy this yearbook as much as we, the annual staff, have enjoyed bringing it to you.

"Praise ye the Lord . . .

Praise Him with the sound of the trumpet . . .

Praise Him with the stringed instruments . . .

Praise Him upon the loud cymbals . . ."

Psalm 150

To Mr. Victor Johnson, who has made the words of this psalm a part of his life's creed, and who has dedicated his time and effort for many years to the musical and moral training of young minds, this book is lovingly inscribed.

We as Christian young people should not live in the past. This is not God's plan. There are many examples in the world today of people who let the mistakes of yesterday make their lives miserable and unhappy. For the Christian young person, then, these things should be in the past and gone forever.

It is not God's plan for any to be burdened with the sorrows and guilt of yesterday rising up to haunt them. He has provided a better plan. One of the greatest helps to forgetting the past is accepting it as God's will and plan for us. "All things work together for good to them that love God." Romans 8:28.

It seems hard to believe always that God means just what he says, but He promises us that when He forgives sin He remembers it no more. May the Lord abundantly bless each of you as you serve Him from day to day, and look only to the future as He leads.

Fred will be a fine mathematician or scientist. He knows how to study well. His hobby is diagnosing the troubles of transistor radios.

FRED AYALA

CAROLE BLAKELY

Carole's ambition is to be a medical secretary. Eager to reach her goal, she has taken high school in three years. Her plans also include a certain fellow named Dick.

CHARLES BROWN

Chuck seems to be majoring in Medical Cadet Corps. He's a lieutenant now. After graduation, the nursing profession calls him.

Gordon likes eating and sleeping and playing football. He is always well-dressed and well-mannered. Being a speech therapist is his goal.

Ronald, a boy with many interests,

his his own aquarium and aviary.

He likes to play the organ, too.

RONALD BROWN

GORDON CASE

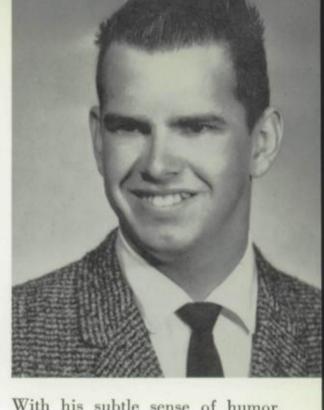

Lee is generous, warm-hearted, and willing to help at any time. He enjoys a good joke—even when it's on himself.

LELAND CHENEWETH

GERRY CHUDLEIGH

With his subtle sense of humor, Gerry adds something to every gathering. He has artistic ability and plans to be a design engineer.

CAROL JEAN DANCEL

Carol Jean comes from the island of Hawaii. She is a quiet, studious girl and will be an asset to any doctor as a medical secretary.

Sandy has been an efficient worker in the business office during her high school years. Some large firm will be lucky to have her as a secretary in the future.

Jimmy is the class giant. Nobody will jump out of the dentist's chair with Dr. Detlefs around. Jim is also a super-salesman.

JAMES DETLEFS

SANDRA GARNER

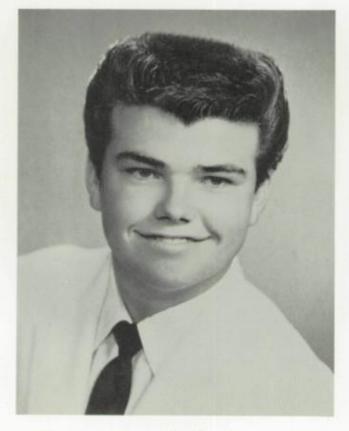

CHARLES GIDDINGS NOEMI GUERRERO

Noemi's courtesy and thoughtfulness will go a long way in helping her as a secretary. She is always willing to go the second mile.

Charles is well-known for his "unusual" laugh. He is a leader on the football field as well as in the classroom. Chas wants to be a doctor someday.

Gary is a boy who knows cars inside and out. He can tear one down or put it together. He plans to be a Certified Public Accountant.

Jack is perhaps the most energetic Senior. He gets up at 4:30 A.M. every morning to work at Geroge's bakery before school. He relaxes by playing golf. Can you beat your dad yet, Jack?

The senior class was happy to wel-

LINDA HEYLE

JACK HOCKIN

Don has an explosive laugh which he is hardly able to contain. His friendly manner and hard-working nature make him well-liked among his classmates.

Pris, the likeable blond editor of the yearbook, is always ready to lend a hand on any project. She is undecided about her life work but will make a success of whatever she does.

DON JOHNSON

SHARON KELLY

ALAN KNAUSS

With his dry humor, Alan can keep a smile on the face of any friend. His height serves him well on the basketball court. "Honest Al" as he is known wants to be an accountant.

PRISCILLA McDUNNAH

LARRY MILLER

Sharon says that her most exciting experience was flying. Was that in your '57 Chevie, Sharon? Sharon plans to be a secretary.

Larry and his trumpet are known to everyone on campus. A genuinely nice person, he will make a trusted lawyer. He has served his school well as Senior class president.

Winton Byington will be a famous inventor someday. In the meantime, he will continue to race go-karts and enjoy sail-boating.

SHARON PEDEN

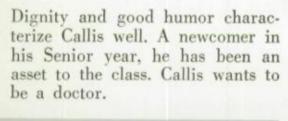

Calm and unassuming. Sharon goes about her work with no fuss or bother. She likes to read and is very artistic. She'd be a credit to any profession.

PENNY PRICE

"Pen," whose favorite pastime is listening to records, would like to be a lady lawyer. With her witty remarks, she could make even a judge laugh.

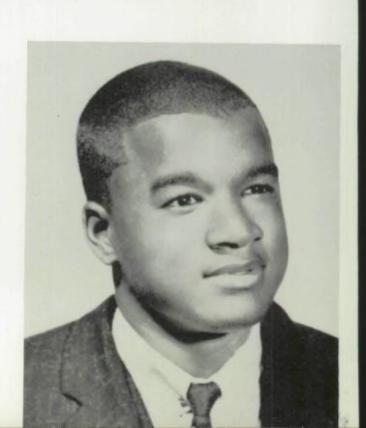

"Big Rud," as he calls himself, has a big heart. Where there's life there's Lanny. None of the class members will ever forget him.

CALLIS ROWE

LANNY RUDLEY

A small boy with a big appetite, Douglas has out-eaten many a bigger man. If you're exchanging friendly insults, Douglas has an answer for everything.

PAUL STEINBACH

"No traffic tickets yet," triumphantly announces Paul. Maybe you should be a traffic cop instead of a doctor, Pablo.

PENNY TAYLOR

Penny's singing ability has opened many doors for her. She is very active in school affairs. Her pet peeve is crabby bus drivers.

Energy is the password with Kay. Hard work and she are old pals. Her job at the Play Pen Nursery should help prepare her for the vocation of kindergarten teacher.

"Tex's" slow drawl and pleasant grin have made him a welcome

MARGARET VAUGHAN

An excellent seamstress, Margie makes many of her own clothes—that's between the hours she works at the hospital. Margie wants to be a secretary.

Carol has a lovely smile. Her cheerfulness is contagious. It is something she will pass on to her patients when she becomes a nurse.

Doug is a loyal class member, always ready to do his part. He likes music and model railroads and is of a scientific turn of mind. He should make a good dentist.

A quiet, soft-spoken girl with a nice laugh, Mardi will always have friends. She plans to be a

Daniel Webster once wrote: "If we work upon marble, it will perish; if on brass, time will efface it; if we rear temples, they will crumble into dust; but if we work upon . . . minds, and imbue them with principles, with the just fear of God and love of our fellow men, we engrave on those tablets something that will brighten to all eternity."

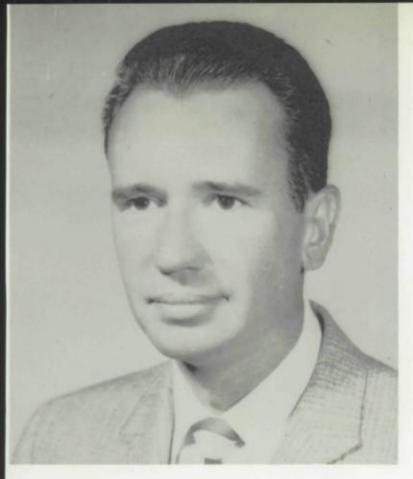

This is why the field of teaching is so challenging—it is a profession dealing with the building of minds and characters that will either aid or hinder the causes of God and man.

This is why the field of teaching is so rewarding—as the teacher sees progress being made in the physical, mental and spiritual development of young people he can thank God for having had a part in the building of those lives.

This is why San Diego Union Academy exists—not only to impart knowledge, but to train young people how to use knowledge for the betterment of mankind and for the development of their own characters.

"For what shall it profit a man, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul?"
